

2018 HARVEST OF MUSIC FESTIVAL AT A GLANCE

Fri. Oct. 12 7:00 PM $18	Jazz	A Tribute to Benny Goodman/Lionel Hampton Featuring Vancouver Clarinetist Liam Hockley and Seattle Vibraphonist Susan Pascal Fans of the Swing Era (and who isn't?) will be ecstatic about this international collaboration between two brilliant musicians who share a love for these historical giants of jazz and the music that they have passed down to us. With Ron Hadley-piano, Joey Smith-bass and Don Leppard-drums
Sat. Oct. 13 12:00 noon $12	Multi-genre	Itamar Erez (guitar, piano) Itamar Erez is an Israeli born Canadian composer, pianist and guitarist whose music is infused with a deep sensitivity that touches the hearts of listeners. He blends the delicateness of Middle Eastern music, the freedom found in Jazz and the passion of Flamenco, creating a unique sound all his own.
Sat. Oct. 13 7:00 PM $18	Classical	The CHROMA String Quartet Founded in 2015 during the String Quartet Seminar of Cuarteto Latinoamericano, this multiple award-winning quartet is comprised of members Ilya Ivanov (Violin/Viola), Felix Alanis (Violin/Viola), Carlos Quijano (Violin) and Manuel Cruz (Cello), all of whom are currently completing advanced performance degrees at the University of Victoria under the tutelage of the renowned Lafayette String Quartet. This evening's program will include works by Mozart and Beethoven.
Sun. Oct. 14 2:30 PM	Classical	Tenor Benjamin Butterfield and Bruce Vogt, piano Benjamin Butterfield, who has been praised by The New York Times as, "clarion-voiced and vibrant", enjoys an international career as one of Canada's most successful and sought-after artists and is known for his performances throughout North America, Europe, the Middle East, and Asia. He is joined today by University of Victoria Piano faculty member and internationally acclaimed pianist Mr. Vogt in what is certain to be a delightfully diverse and engaging afternoon of song as well as solo piano works by Schubert and Brahms.